

UAIT Hope Goat & Sheep Project

Building Sustainable Institutional Self-Reliance Through Livestock Farming

Dear Prospective Partner,

The United African Institute of Technology (UAIT) respectfully invites your cooperation in developing the UAIT Hope Goat & Sheep Project, an income-generating initiative designed to strengthen institutional financial sustainability and operational self-reliance.

Available Project Land

Rwanda Campus

15,000 m²

Tanzania Campus

10 acres

Our Objectives

- Develop healthy and responsibly managed goat and sheep herds.
- Create a dependable institutional income-generating asset.
- Practice sustainable farming and responsible stewardship of available land.
- Empower young people through practical livestock, farm management, and enterprise skills.

Ways to Cooperate

We welcome livestock donations, financial contributions, infrastructure and materials, technical expertise, training support, and long-term institutional partnerships. Contributions may support animals, fencing, shelters, water systems, feed, veterinary services, equipment, staff development, and practical youth training.

UAIT is committed to responsible animal care, clear records, measured growth, and transparent communication with project supporters.

We invite you to help turn available land into sustainable opportunity.

To discuss cooperation, please contact UAIT at uautkr@gmail.com or +82 10-8887-2398.
